“Do this in remembrance of me.”

HISTORY—It has been fascinating for me to look back into the history of our congregation as part of our 125th Anniversary. First Lutheran has a history of innovation. One of the ways this congregation has exemplified the willingness to be innovative is in our sacramental practices, particularly with regard to Holy Communion. Under Pastor’s Gullixson and Ulvilden, in the first half of the 20th century, the practice of registering for communion individually and participating in private confession before taking Holy Communion was re-instituted after a long absence.

During the ministry of Pastor Kildahl, in the 1950’s, the frequency of communion in worship was increased, so that we were communing once a month in what became known as “sacramental Sunday.” By the 1960’s, the congregation began offering communion once a week in at least one of our services. In 1965, Pastor Kildahl wrote, “Here we believe the sacrament is a vital and spiritually enriching gift of God for his people, and therefore offer our people the sacrament weekly and often...we rejoice in the many who do take the sacrament, but we hope and pray that the spiritual health of our members may be strengthened by frequent communing.”

In the 1970’s however, came a “big change.” In his annual report that year, Pastor Kildahl wrote, “That the church has taken action to begin the administration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion to children in the fifth grade and before confirmation.” By the late 1970’s, under Pastor Davick, the Lord’s supper became even more frequent. It was offered in all services every week...it was at the time considered a giant step. Along with this change in frequency came the practice of inviting all children regardless of age to come forward with their parents and older siblings, “though only for a blessing.” Yet by 1985, it was reported “that bread is given to everyone, even to infants.” This is where First Lutheran experienced controversy.

It was argued by proponents of this practice that when Jesus said, “Bring the children to me, and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the Kingdom of God,” it meant that we should bring even infants to receive Christ, and in the sacrament of Holy Communion we do just that...receive Christ. “This is my body... this is my blood,” Jesus said, and in our Lutheran tradition that is what we confess...that “Christ is present in this sacrament.” Others contended that the words of Paul in I Corinthians 11 were to inform our practices with regard to Holy Communion. Paul had instructed that before communing, “We are to examine ourselves, so as not to eat and drink unworthily.” Since it is said that infants cannot do this, they should wait to commune. This was the contention of those who opposed giving bread to younger children.

CURRENT FLC PRACTICE—Here, at least in practice, is pretty much where First Lutheran has left things. We as a congregation welcome all forward at communion time, and have also continued offering bread to any child that asks for it, regardless of age. Formal teaching about the sacrament has waited until the fifth grade. In the fall of 2006 however, our church council approved a policy whereby we would invite parents more intentionally into the decision about the communion practices of their children. If they so chose, their children could take both the bread and wine of communion at an age younger than 5th grade. In effect, this decision formally recognized what had been in practice for over 20 years, that is, children of any age were given Holy Communion. That they might take only bread and not wine does not change the fact that they have communed. The bread is 100% of Jesus in communion, just as the wine is 100% Jesus. We cannot “divide Jesus up” in the sacrament into halves. Communion is not the body and blood of Jesus because someone understands or fails to understand this mystery. Communion is the body and blood of Jesus because Jesus says it is. In other words, we Lutherans take literally Jesus’ own words “this is my body...this is my blood.” And so “it is.” (I will continue my reflections in May’s newsletter.)

RENEWED INVITATION—One further note - Holy Communion was “instituted by Christ” on that day we call Maundy Thursday of Holy Week. It is one of the most beautiful and moving services of the church year. In recent years, children have received their “first communion” on that night, and it was preceded by a special Passover supper in the parish hall. This year, we will move the Passover supper re-enactment into the worship service itself. Many of our fifth grade kids will be receiving communion for the first time that night. But I urge you to avail yourself of this beautiful worship service even if you don’t have a child involved. Maundy Thursday is the first communion night of the whole church, and a vital part of Holy Week worship and observance. I long to see us recapture that by having the whole worshipping community present. Do plan to attend this year’s service, made all the more special by those young members who will join you in communion for the very first time.

GOODBYE TO PASTOR JIM
—WE WISH YOU WELL!

Jim, brother in Christ Jesus, and colleague in ministry:
I want to thank you both personally and on behalf of the staff and members of First Lutheran for coming and serving us for this past year. As you said in your resignation letter, “What a year it has been.” It’s common for congregations and pastors to grow close and form bonds in the course of ministry. We and you grew close because of what you supplied out of your pastor’s heart, as well as how you showed us a husband’s heart and let us in to your hurt when Jayne died.

In so many ways, you enabled us to grieve with and for you, and were not shy about expressing your faith. One of your most memorable statements to me, and I don’t believe I am betraying any confidences in saying this, is when, after Jayne died, you said, “My body is tired and my heart is heavy, but Satan can’t touch my soul...my faith is strong.” I may not have said that as well as you did, but I think I’m close to recapturing both the honesty and conviction of your faith.

I also will always remember vividly both the sadness and the joy on your face during Jayne’s funeral when those gospel promises and songs of the faith were sinking deep into your soul, and you were so obviously at peace with Christ even though you were so deeply wounded. Speaking as a pastor, I know its one thing to proclaim the promises of Christ to a congregation, quite another to let that congregation see how much you need those promises for yourself. You did that for us, and we are grateful to you and stronger for it.

Thank you for each and every visit you made to the hospital, a home, or some other place that someone in our congregation needed you to be. Thank you for investing yourself and expressing your wisdom in and through our committees. Thank you for preaching for us the gospel of Jesus Christ. Thank you for leading our worship and lifting Christ up in the sacraments, for inviting vows of the newly married and washing in God’s grace the newly baptized. Thank you, in other words, for being a pastor to us. Forgive me and us what we may have failed at, our words or deeds left undone or unsaid. We are after all, sinners. But as you so often reminded us, there is no better news than that God in Christ loves sinners!

Take good care of those you tend at Bethel in Wahpeton. Re-visit us when you can. Please know that we hold you in deep respect and appreciation for your coming, and for leaving with us many needed graces.

Take care and the Lord watch over,
Because of a cross,
Ken Nelson

Worship Committee

The Worship Committee met on March 3, at 6:30 pm, for its regular monthly meeting. JoAnn Linrud and Sarah Walker have agreed to Co-Chair the committee as a result of the changes in committee membership.

The committee discussed whether we should develop a statement that sets out the committee objectives and goals. Pastor Ken said this would be a good idea as the Council is currently doing some visioning work. A good starting point might be Pastor Ken’s annual letter to the congregation with an eye to the next 50 years.

There was good conversation based on a couple of questions from the congregational worship survey. First, we had a lively discussion about Wednesday/ Sunday school. There are many ideas, concerns and opinions about how to engage our Wednesday evening participants more fully in Sunday morning worship and Sunday School. This discussion will be ongoing. Second, the time and location of the Saturday evening service was discussed. Some survey respondents indicated they would like to begin earlier and there are occasions when the Chapel fills up and folks have to sit outside the Chapel in the Sanctuary. It was decided to leave the time and location as they are right now as there is a loyal group of worshippers who are content with the service as is.

There were a couple of concerns about the liturgy we are using during this season of Lent. As a result, modifications will be made to make the bulletin more user friendly and the congregation will be made aware of language changes to the Creed and Lord’s Prayer.

Holy Week and Easter plans have been made. Our Maundy Thursday service will be a re-creation of the Last Supper and will minimize the spoken word and concentrate on the meal. This is also the service when many of our children will take their first communion. Easter Services will be at our normal worship times.

We are happy to hear from any of you regarding worship. Please let us know if we can be of service.
